Amplify real-world perspectives to develop successful community programs and partnerships

Health organizations can address community health more effectively if they more deeply understand the what matters to community members – whether or not they are active patients. Traditional community needs assessments lack qualitative insights needed to guide smart, strategic investment decisions.

CommunityWisdom captures real-world perspectives about health issues, needs, and resources at both the individual and community level. It combines an open-ended, qualitative approach with highly reliable content analysis to capture and report meaningful insights. We work closely with health organizations and community agencies to deploy CommunityWisdom most effectively in the communities they serve.

"Our partnership with CommunityWisdom gave us much greater insight into the needs of the communities we serve. The digital platform allowed us to ask our most vulnerable populations qualitative questions to gain better understanding of their greatest challenges.

We would not have been able to assimilate the volume of information in a constrained timeline without the expertise of CommunityWisdom. Their support not only provided shape to our work, but ultimately helped us improve the health of our communities."
